Notes to Financial Statements December 31, 2006

Note 1: Nature of Operations and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Formation of Company

The Strategic Financial Alliance, Inc. (the Company) was formed on February 13, 2003 and conducts business as a securities broker-dealer. The Company is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and is a member of the National Association of Securities Dealers (NASD). The Company is a wholly owned subsidiary of Reliance Advisory Holdings, Inc. (the Parent). The Company is incorporated under the laws of the state of Georgia, is privately held and is headquartered in Atlanta, Georgia.

Description of the Business

The Company, through a network of registered representatives, sells to customers various securities, including stocks, bonds, private placements, interests in limited partnerships and variable annuities, on a fully disclosed basis. All of the Company's trades are cleared through an unrelated clearing broker. The Company's independent registered representatives are licensed throughout the United States and operate under the jurisdiction of local offices of supervisory jurisdiction.

Use of Estimates in Financial Statements

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Revenue Recognition

Commission revenues and related clearing expenses are recorded on a trade-date basis as securities transactions occur. Limited partnership commission revenues and the related commission expenses are recorded when earned.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash and highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into cash and have a maturity of ninety days or less when purchased. At times, cash and cash equivalent balances may exceed federally insured amounts. The Company believes it mitigates risks by depositing cash and investing in cash equivalents with major financial institutions.

Restricted Cash

Restricted cash is held by the clearing broker as a condition of the Company's Fully Disclosed Clearing Agreement.

Methods of Depreciation

Depreciation is provided using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the individual assets as follows: office and computer equipment, three years; computer software, three years; and furniture and fixtures, seven years.

Income Taxes

The Company is a C corporation for federal and state income tax purposes and is included in the consolidated return of the Parent. Federal and state income taxes are calculated as if the companies filed on a separate return basis and the amount of current tax or benefit is transferred to or received from the Parent. Deferred income taxes are provided for temporary differences between the financial reporting bases and the tax bases of the Company's assets and liabilities.

Note 2: Related Party Transactions

The Parent was a party to an administrative services agreement with a third party whereby the third party would provide administrative support, including accounting and technology support, access to human resources, payroll processing and telephones and office space. This agreement was terminated in October 2006. The Company reimbursed the Parent for amounts charged under this agreement, which were $35,000 during 2006. The Company also pays to the Parent any salaries and benefits for Parent personnel acting on behalf of the Company and for estimated income taxes incurred by the Company. Total amounts owed to the Parent at December 31, 2006 were $14,600 and expenses incurred by the Company totaled $1,162,928 during 2006.

The Parent has a bonus pool agreement in place at December 31, 2006. The bonus is calculated based on the consolidated income of the Parent and is equal to 25% of the first $1 million in earnings before taxes, depreciation, amortization, stock-based compensation and certain recruiting expenses (EBTDA), plus 15% of the second $1 million of EBTDA, plus 10% of any excess above $2 million in EBTDA. At December 31, 2005, the Company's portion of the bonus pool allocated to it by the Parent (included in the $1,162,928 above) was $122,000.

The Parent has a stock option plan under which employees of the Parent and registered representatives of the Company may receive options to purchase shares of the Parent's stock. During 2006, options to purchase 59,800 shares of stock were issued to employees of the Parent and registered representatives of the Company. The aggregate fair value of these options was not significant.

The Company pays commissions to its registered representatives on behalf of an affiliated company, SFA Insurance Services, Inc. As of December 31, 2006, the amount due to SFA Insurance Services, Inc. was $8,756.

Note 3: Property and Equipment

	_44,028
	$86,542

Depreciation expense associated with property and equipment was $18,690 in 2006.

Note 4: Short-Term Note Payable

WINDHAM BRANNON

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL REQUIRED BY SEC RULE 17A-5

To the Board of Directors and Stockholder of The Strategic Financial Alliance, Inc.

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements and supplemental schedules of The Strategic Financial Alliance, Inc. (the Company) for the year ended December 31, 2006, we considered its internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on internal control.

Also, as required by Rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in Rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under Rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of Rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

- 1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons
- 2. Recordation of differences required by Rule 17a-13
- 3. Complying with the requirement for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserves Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the proceeding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable, but not absolute, assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control or the practices and procedures referred to above, errors or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

Our consideration of internal control would not necessarily disclose all matters in internal control that might be material weaknesses under standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of the specific internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that error or fraud in amounts that would be material in relation to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. However, we noted no matters involving internal control, including control activities for safeguarding securities, that we consider to be material weaknesses as defined above.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures were adequate at December 31, 2006 to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the Board of Directors, the stockholder, the SEC and other regulatory agencies that rely on Rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
